Culture and language are the most valuable heritage of a country which colonialists have tried to make insignificant during the past centuries. The piece 'Precious!' represents the stage of gradual devaluation of a culture. In this art work, the plate represents a complex like a country and the words are symbols of culture, language, poetry and literature which are coming out of the plate and nothing may be filled in their place. Different scripts of the letters illustrate different periods which have been passed to a nation. More and more recently, people say that protecting our cultural heritage is a real concern; but they just pretend and it will be forgotten forever.
